A MESSAGE FROM THE CONTROLLER

WHAT DOES A CONTROLLER DO?

The Controller is the fiscal watchdog of County government, monitoring its accounts and expenditures through the Accounting, Auditing, and Management Systems functions of the office.

The Controller serves ex officio as a member of the Allegheny County Retirement Board, Investment Board, Jail Oversight Board, and Juvenile Detention Board of Advisors.

Dear Taxpayers,

I am pleased to present to you this Popular Annual Financial Report (PAFR) for the year ended December 31, 2015. This report is intended to provide an easily understandable distillation of the information in Allegheny County's Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR), and to provide an interesting and informative overview of the County's financial status and operations.

I am incredibly honored to have been chosen by the citizens of Allegheny County to continue my service as their Controller for a second term. Checks and balances and critical analysis of financial decisions are essential in government, and I am eager to build upon and strengthen the important work that was done during my first four years in office.

My first term ended on an auspicious note, with the Court decision affirming my office's ability to conduct performance audits of County departments. We have embarked on our first audits in connection with this decision, which I am certain will add to the considerable savings and efficiencies that my office has already been able to bring to light.

In other recent developments, my office has taken a major step forward in government transparency with the launch of County Contracts Online and our OpenGov platform, which puts up-to-date County financial information and other data at our citizens' fingertips. These resources can be accessed via my Web site, www.alleghenycontroller.com

I also remain dedicated to hearing and responding to the concerns of the average citizens of Allegheny County, and urge those with concerns about waste, fraud or abuse in County government to contact my Taxpayer Hotline at 412-350-4300.

I hope you will find this report a valuable contribution to my efforts to make our County government more accessible to all of our citizens.

Chelsa Wagner
Allegheny County Controller

The median home value in Allegheny County rose by 4.6 percent over the course of 2015 to $129,300, the largest increase among Pennsylvania counties during this year, according to Zillow.com.

The average rental home costs $1,164 per month, below the national average of $1,380. (Zillow.com)

In 2015, Pittsburgh was named the #1 Food City by Zagat. The Allegheny County Department of Health licensed more than 150 new food establishments during 2015.

Pittsburgh and Allegheny County hosted 496 meetings and conventions in 2015 which attracted 298,628 attendees, contributing $184.4 million in direct spending to the local economy. The number of available hotel rooms in Allegheny County grew by 4.2 percent in 2015, while occupancy remained even (67.3 percent) despite the increase in supply. (VisitPittsburgh.com)

CONTROLLER'S OFFICE YEAR IN REVIEW

million

Hertz Corporation agreed to pay more than $2.5 million identified by the Controller's Office as being owed to the County in connection with vehicle rentals at Pittsburgh International Airport. In 2012, Controller Wagner expanded concession contract audits with the car rental companies to include payment of the County's $2 per day car rental tax. Funds acquired through the car rental tax are required by law to support public transit, with the funds recovered in this settlement amounting to the cost of running two PAT bus routes for an entire year.

$882,023
unpaid

The Controller's Office identified $882,023 in unpaid taxes, penalties and interest stemming from Hotel/Motel tax compliance audits referred by the County Treasurer, who collects the tax. The 24 reviews conducted in 2015 identified an average amount owed of $36,750. By far the largest unpaid amount identified as being owed was $337,458 in back taxes, penalties and interest dating to 2011 by an Airport-area motel.

$508,316
owed

A Taxpayer Alert from the Controller's Office revealed that property owners receiving federal Section 8 rental subsidies owed a minimum of $508,316 in County, municipal and school property taxes, making them ineligible for these subsidies. The review also found that many Section 8 rental properties receive the Homestead Exemption on property taxes despite rental properties being ineligible.

$58,000
identified

The County recovered nearly $58,000 identified by the Controller's Office in duplicate fees paid to state constables for court services, initiating improvements to training, policies and procedures to prevent duplicate payments in the future.

$805,737
combined

An audit identified conclusive examples of misuse and fraud leading to the arrest of an employee of First Vehicle Services, the maintenance provider for County vehicles, who stole approximately $13,000 by using a County employee's fuel card; recovery of $42,737 for improper use of a County vehicle; and identifying a failure to seek at least $750,000 in reimbursement for liquid fuels taxes from the state.

HIGHLIGHTS

FUND BALANCE IS STRONG

The 2015 General Fund Balance is $69 million, of which $41 million is unassigned. The unassigned fund balance represents 5.7 percent of the County's 2015 General Fund revenues. Rating agencies recommend an unassigned fund balance of at least 5 percent of General Fund revenues.

TAX REVENUE UP

Tax revenue increased in 2015, indicating more robust economic activity. Property tax revenue rose by $5.7 million, although half of this amount is being reserved as an estimate for refunds to be paid for appeals still in progress. Sales tax revenue increased $1.5 million, or a 3 percent increase, which has occurred in 4 of the past 5 years.

OTHER TAX PROCEEDS INCREASE

Alcoholic Beverage and Rental Vehicle tax revenues, dedicated by law to public transportation, increased by $5 million in 2015. Hotel Tax proceeds, which fund promotion of tourism, were up $2.7 million.

IMPROVEMENTS WARRANT RATING BOOST

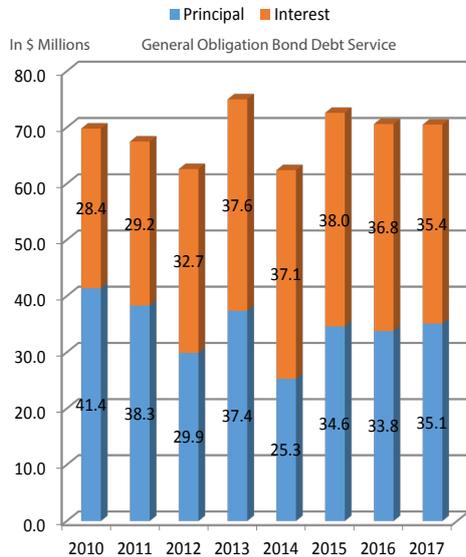

Outside analysts have recognized the positive fiscal strides made by the County, as it has been awarded an investment rating of AA- by S&P Global Ratings. Many factors contribute to this rating including the County's strong economic base, as well as renewed efforts to control expenditures and identify additional regularly recurring revenue streams.

SURVEY SHOWS BETTER HEALTH

According to the annual County Health Rankings by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, Allegheny County improved from 40th to 34th out of the 67 counties in Pennsylvania. The measurement of the health of the community includes physical activity, substance abuse, obesity, smoking, access to healthy foods, the quality of air and water as well as social factors such as unemployment and poverty. The improvement in the County's ranking was driven largely by a decrease in premature death, and was based on 2010-2012 state data.

CHALLENGES

Debt Levels Down, But Payments Costly

The County ended 2015 with its lowest General Obligation Bond debt since 2011, though debt payments remain a drain on County resources, amounting to about $700 for every County resident. Debt service payments increased more than $10 million over 2014.

State Impasse Requires Flexibility

Pennsylvania's state budget impasse represented a major challenge to the County in 2015, as state reimbursements are the primary funding source for the County's largest expenditure, Human Services programs. Payments were severely curtailed for a number of months and the County was forced to transfer more than $11.4 million from Capital funds to cover Human Services payroll and essential payments for services such as foster care. Additionally, nearly 400 provider agencies were not paid during the impasse.

Air Pollution is Lingering Issue

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) designates at least part of Allegheny County as in non-attainment for three of six criteria pollutants: ozone, fine particulate matter, and sulfur dioxide. In 2013, Pittsburgh ranked below a dozen other benchmark metropolitan areas in both ozone and fine particulate matter measurements, according to the EPA.

One-Time Budget Fixes Risky

One time fixes that may not be available in future years have once again been used to bolster the fund balance. In 2015, these included an $8 million credit from Highmark and the use of $4 million in Hotel Tax funds for expenditures incurred in the County Parks. The continued use of one-time sources is an unsustainable budgeting practice that risks returning the County to deficient fund balance levels.

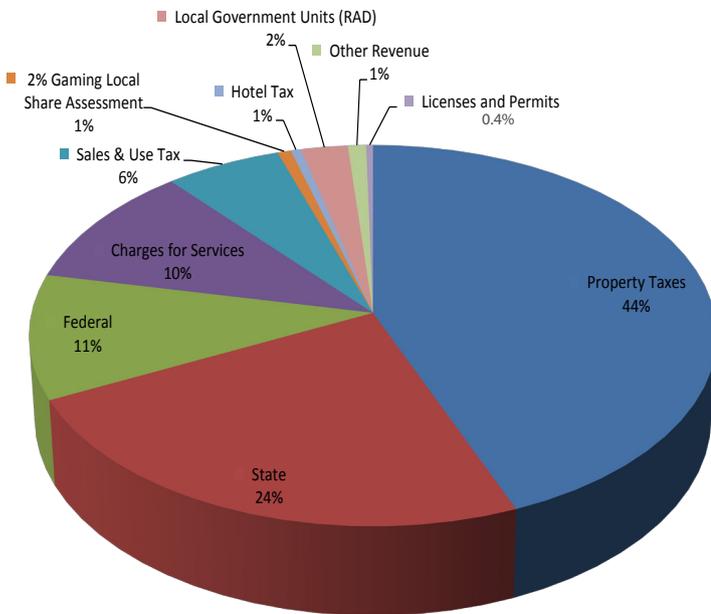

Market Declines Thwart Increased Contributions to Pension Fund

A healthy pension has a funded ratio of at least 80 percent. Despite increased contributions in each of the last two years, the County's funded ratio is only 56.6 percent. This represents a decline from last year due to decreased investment returns.

Year	Contribution Rate	Funded Status	Total Assets
2015	9.0%	56.6%	$824 million
2014	8.5%	60.3%	$839 million
2013	8.0%	59.5%	$828 million
2012	8.0%	55.4%	$761 million
2011	7.0%	58.7%	$687 million

REVENUE

2015

2015 General & Debt Service Fund Revenue

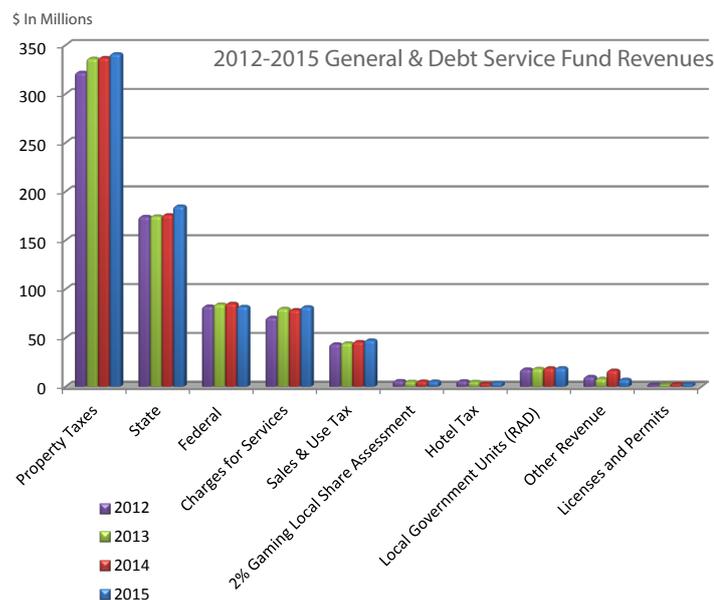

The County's General and Debt Service Fund accounts for the vast majority of County revenues and expenditures.

Total revenue increased about $8 million in 2015 over the prior year to approximately $778.6 million.

The primary source of the increase was an additional $9 million in State funding, primarily for Children, Youth and Family Services programs.

Property Tax revenue increased by $5.7 million, holding steady at 44 percent of total revenue. However, $2.5 million has been set aside for pending appeals.

These increases prevented a decline in revenue despite one-time infusions in 2014 of $5 million from the sale of a Health Department building and a $2.5 million bonus payment for Marcellus Shale leases in Deer Lakes Park.

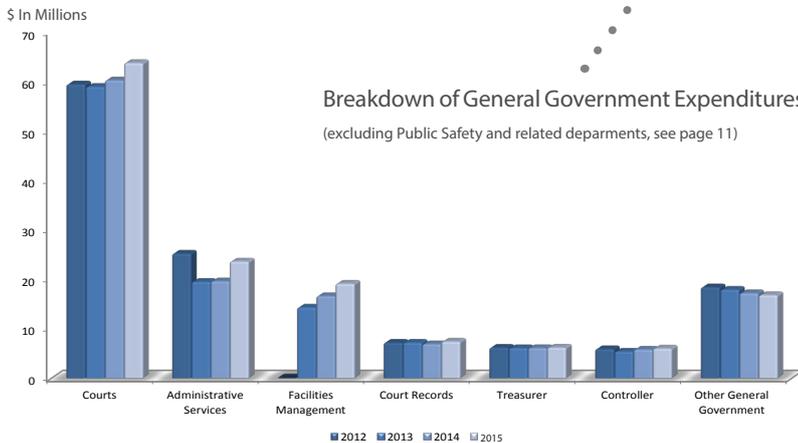

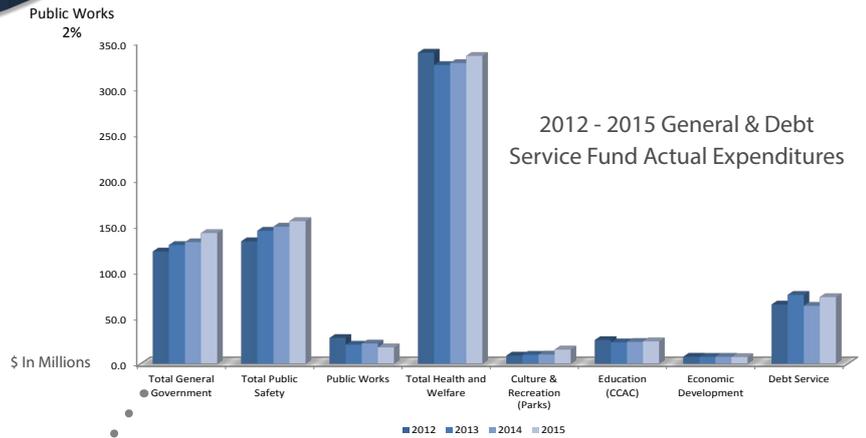

EXPENDITURES

Expenditures increased $34 million in 2015 over the prior year, to a total of $769.9 million. Debt Service was $10 million higher, with other increases occurring in improving the condition of County facilities, efforts to market the County's parks, as well as technological enhancements.

HEALTH & WELFARE

County government provides an array of services that many residents rely on daily. The Department of Human Services delivers a coordinated system of social services. Its four divisions are as follows:

Children, Youth and Family Services Division

Provides services for abused and dependent children and their families through counseling, emergency shelters, foster homes, group homes and institutions. In 2015, 7,563 children and 7,743 parents received services.

Behavioral Health/Intellectual Disability/ Drug and Alcohol Division

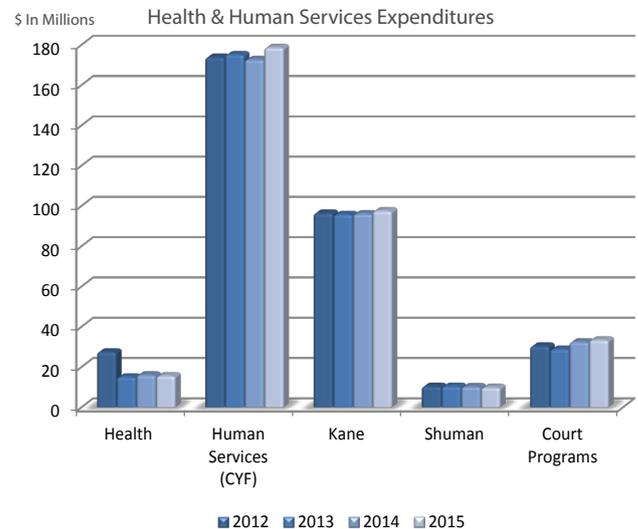

Administers an integrated, community-based service delivery system that provides treatment, counseling and housing to County residents with mental disabilities or drug and alcohol addiction.

Aging Division

Functions as the local Area Agency on Aging. Provides a coordinated system of social services to the elderly of Allegheny County, including senior citizens' centers, housing assistance, legal assistance and the Meals on Wheels program.

Community Services Division

Provides a coordinated system of employment and training services for unemployed and disadvantaged County residents. Administers programs providing direct and indirect services to individuals and citizen groups through two principal programs – Community Action and Head Start.

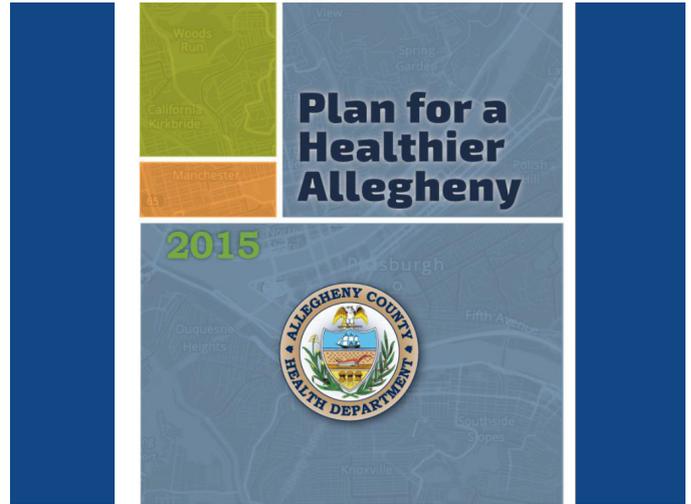

- The Allegheny County Health Department (ACHD) protects and improves public health through a variety of programs, including pollution monitoring, food poisoning prevention, rodent control, water testing, dental clinics, solid waste management, recycling, health education, and maternal and infant care.
- The Kane Regional Health Centers offer skilled nursing, long-term care and rehabilitation to the chronically ill and elderly who have limited financial resources through four facilities with a total of 1,124 licensed beds.
- Court Programs provide alternative sentencing programs for adults and juveniles, including placement facilities and home detention, while the Shuman Detention Center provides secure, temporary shelter to delinquent youths awaiting final case disposition.

In September, the Allegheny County Health Department was awarded a $150,000, two-year grant from the Jefferson Foundation to launch the Live Well Allegheny Mon Valley Initiative. The funding will aid the ACHD and its partners to increase the number of people in the Mon Valley with access to smoke-free and tobacco-free environments, access to healthy food and beverage options, and access to physical activity opportunities.

The ACHD has joined several local collaborating agencies in a new Allegheny County initiative, AIDS Free Pittsburgh (AFP). The mission is to reduce the rate of new HIV infections by 75 percent and achieve an AIDS-free county, meaning no new AIDS cases, by the year 2020. To learn more about AIDS Free Pittsburgh and how you can benefit from its services call 412-560-0490 or visit AFP's Facebook page at www.facebook.com/AIDSFreePittsburgh

In August, the ACHD was chosen as one of the first four sites in the country to participate in a new initiative--Bridging for Health: Improving Community Health Through Innovations in Financing--supported by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF). RWJF is one of the country's leading non-profit organizations supporting research and programs throughout the nation which are working to build a Culture of Health. The two ACHD initiatives highlighted by the selection committee were its Plan for a Healthier Allegheny, a multi-sector community health improvement plan released earlier this year, and the Public Health Improvement Fund. The Fund was created by a number of local foundations committed to investing in Health Department infrastructure.

It also assists municipalities with training of firefighters, oversees the countywide 911 network, and investigates all fires of suspicious origin. The Police Bureau provides security at all County facilities, offers assistance to municipal police departments and housing authorities, and trains local police and security guards. The Allegheny County Jail detains and supervises persons awaiting trial accused of violation of probation or parole, or serving given sentences.

The County is responsible for providing services that include:

District Attorney

Responsible for the prosecution of all Allegheny County criminal cases.

Public Defender

Provides legal counsel for indigent defendants and for respondents.

The program, announced by Manhattan District Attorney Cyrus R. Vance Jr., provided approximately $38 million in grants to 32 jurisdictions in 20 states. The two-year awards will help test an estimated 56,475 rape kits, generating DNA evidence that can help solve cases across the country.

TRANSPORTATION &

Allegheny County provides local matching funds for the Port Authority of Allegheny County from the 7 percent drink tax and $2 per day car rental tax. These revenues are accounted for in the Transportation Fund.

The Port Authority served more than 214,000 riders on an average weekday during fiscal year 2015 on its fleet of more than 700 buses, more than 80 light rail vehicles, and two inclines. Total rides totaled almost 64 million.

Port Authority also sponsors ACCESS, a door-to-door, advance reservation, shared-ride transportation program that primarily serves seniors and persons with disabilities.

In October 2015, County Council approved a $5 per vehicle fee on all vehicles registered in the County beginning in 2016. The fee, authorized by the state's 2013 transportation funding law, is expected to generate approximately $4 million annually. The fee will be collected as part of the state's vehicle registration fee, and then remitted to the County for road and bridge maintenance. The County maintains approximately 800 miles of roadway and 520 bridges.

The intermodal East Liberty Transit Center on the Martin Luther King Jr. East Busway at the connection of Shadyside and East Liberty is at the center of the East Liberty Transit Revitalization Investment District -- or TRID -- which is the first implementation of such a district in the state.

The transit center project -- which required nearly 20 funding sources to complete and built upon six acres of disused public and private land -- includes a reconstructed transit station, 3,000 square feet of mixed commercial space, 360 units of market-rate housing, a 554-space shared-use parking facility, a new street connection, a new pedestrian bridge, a 120-space bike garage, lighting, streetscape improvements, landscaping and plaza facilities that connect Penn Avenue transit users to the MLK Jr. East Busway facilities.

INFRASTRUCTURE

In March, the Port Authority's Board of Directors approved a new agreement with the Stadium Authority of the City of Pittsburgh that will provide funding to support free rides at the North Side Station for five years.

The agreement ensures the North Side Station remains within the Authority's light rail Free Fare Zone, which currently extends from First Avenue Station in Downtown to Allegheny Station on the North Shore. The cost is shared between the Stadium Authority and ALCO Parking Corporation. The new agreement will provide annual payments that start at $205,000 in the first year and increase by $15,000 each year of the agreement.

The 2015 Make My Trip Count Survey, funded by the Pittsburgh Foundation and sponsored by a dozen partnering organizations, illustrates the travel patterns of more than 20,700 commuters in the Pittsburgh region. The survey showed that 46.7 percent of respondents drive alone on their daily commute, while 25.7 percent ride a bus, 5.4 percent ride the 'T', 5.3 percent carpool, 4.3 percent walk, and 4.2 percent ride a bike.

When combining bus and 'T' riders, more commuters to Downtown Pittsburgh (41 percent) use transit than drive alone (38.3 percent).

Did You Know?

The American Public Transportation Association's Transit Savings Report determined that a Pittsburgh-area commuter can save $754 per month by using public transit. This amounts to more than $9,000 over the course of a year.

The $14.5 million Carrie Furnace Flyover Bridge was completed in December. The bridge connects the Rankin Bridge to the 168-acre brownfield along the Monongahela River by passing over three railway tracks and includes significant railroad crossing safety improvements. The completion of the flyover bridge marks a significant milestone in the site work and reclamation of the former steel yard.
